The value of your investment can go down as well as up so you might get back less than you put in. For investments in the PAC With-Profits Range of Funds, the value of the policy depends on the profits made by the long term fund of The Prudential Assurance Company Limited and how these profits are distributed.

Because of changes in exchange rates the value of your investment, as well as the money you take from it, can go down as well as up.

Short-term outlook

As we move through 2023, an ongoing slowdown is playing out, however, full year growth forecasts have been upwardly revised since the turn of the year. Weaker global export orders have been dampening economic growth prospects in both advanced and emerging economies. Despite private sector balance sheets being in better positions than at the onset of previous downturns, fragilities have begun to emerge further weighing down on sentiment. Our 'Economic Activity Indicator' indicates contractionary levels but with recovery in short-term momentum in recent readings.

Inflation

Alongside base effects, whereby large price level shifts over the past year drop out of year-on-year calculations, headline annual inflation prints have been on a downward trajectory in recent months. However, abstracting from cyclical components, there are still signs that core inflation remains sticky, particularly given tight labour market conditions, and will only respond to easing headline pressures with a lag. Energy prices, a historically volatile component of inflation, has been on a steeper than anticipated downward trajectory in November and has fed through to lower-than-expected inflation readings.

Monetary Policy

While economic data remains largely resilient, particularly in the labour market of advanced economies, core inflation continues to normalise with a lag to lower headline inflation readings as energy prices fall and base effects drop off. Policy rate cuts are now expected to ease next year. It remains to be seen to what extent monetary conditions will be eased if a more pronounced economic downturn does materialise.

Please note

You may only invest in one PAC With-Profits Range of Funds. Investments in PAC With-Profits Range of Funds are backed by assets in the With-Profits Fund of The Prudential Assurance Company Ltd through a reinsurance agreement.

The returns shown are the returns on the underlying assets. The actual returns on any policy are smoothed and will depend on the bonuses declared over the period of investment.

If money invested in the PAC With-Profits Range of Funds is taken out at any time, except on death, maturity or to meet certain regular withdrawals, PAC may reduce the amount to reflect the current market value of the underlying assets. This is known as a Market Value Reduction. In addition an Early Cash-In Charge may apply in the first five years of any investment into the bond.

For any fund, there may be a delay in buying, selling or switching of units. These delays will only apply in exceptional circumstances and if this applies to you, we will let you know. For more information, please refer to your Contract Conditions, which you can get from your Financial Adviser.
