Fund manager commentary

31 March 2021

The most significant story was in fixed income markets as many mainstream government bonds were sold off, led by US Treasuries. Investors became fearful that the US Federal Reserve may have to act a lot earlier than anticipated to cool rising prices given the massive extra COVID-19 stimulus package.

The UK ended a volatile quarter just behind the US but ahead of the other major regional equity markets. The UK market was supported by the Brexit trade deal, a resumption in company dividend payments, the successful vaccination programme, extension of government support measures in the Budget and a roadmap for exiting the third lockdown, plus better-than-expected economic data. However, as well as inflation concerns, there were also concerns about more virulent virus strains emerging, which caused European countries to tighten their lockdown rules.

President Biden's US$1.9 trillion COVID relief package, along with rallying commodity prices, offered a favourable backdrop to stockmarkets globally. Total returns from traditional safe haven assets like UK gilts, US Treasuries and German bunds fell in the period.

UK commercial property delivered positive returns, driven primarily by rental income. Investor interest remained focused on well-located, modern properties with more secure income streams, as well as those riding the changes in occupier behaviour.

The M&G Treasury & Investment Office (T&IO) outlook is cautiously optimistic although much uncertainty remains in 2021.
