

Prohibited, Sanctioned and High Risk countries list

Prudential International is fully committed to upholding sanctions to help prevent organised financial crime and terrorism. Under our sanction's policy, we will not accept business from customers who are resident in the countries listed below and overleaf.

In addition, as a result of these restrictions:

- › Correspondence addresses in any of the following countries will not be accepted.
- › Beneficiaries must not be resident in any of the countries noted as either a prohibited or sanctioned country. Prudential International also reserves the right to refuse any business where a beneficiary is resident in a high risk country.
- › Advisers must not solicit, negotiate or transact business in any of the countries listed below and overleaf.

Please note, we can only accept applicants/policyholders from territories where we have a compliant product available. For a list of these territories please refer to our Acceptance of Business Criteria (AOBC) guide (IPBB10252)

Due to regulatory, tax and other restrictions, Prudential International doesn't currently accept any business from residents of the following countries:
